HARVARD MEDICAL SCHOOL
TEACHING HOSPITAL

Pediatric care is changing and improving all the time, and it can be difficult for doctors, nurses and other members of the healthcare team to stay on top of newest practices, treatments and approaches. This course will review innovations and advances in pediatrics that can lead to better outcomes and improve the quality of care for children in the primary care setting.

This course addresses these challenges. Upon completion of this course, participants will be able to:

- evaluate recent basic science and clinical advances in pediatrics
- apply up-to-date evidence-based guidelines to common pediatric complaints
- evaluate traditional principles of care in light of recent scientific advances in pediatrics

Target audience

- › Physicians
- › Nurses
- › Nurse practitioners
- › Physician assistants
